Hi, How Are You is hosting a fundraising concert at Bar Nadar in Marfa. This event will showcase music from Erika Wennerstrom, known for her involvement in Austin-based rock group Heartless Bastards, on the cusp of her debut solo album Sweet Unknown; and Rainstorm Brother, the brainchild of Los Angeles-based folk musician John Isaac Watters and keyboardist-producer Tyler Chester. The concert will raise money for the Hi, How Are You (HHAY) Project, which produces media and peer-to-peer training programs that encourage open dialogue on mental well-being.

Prior to the concert, the HHAY Project is also hosting a VIP art show and sale at Marfa Studio of Arts and Marfa Public Radio from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. This reception will showcase original pieces by Daniel Johnston, Bob Schneider, and Jason Archer. Archer, considered a pioneer of Austin's contemporary art scene, will be in attendance to visit with guests and fans. The proceeds from this event will also benefit the HHAY Project.
